A summer at Lancaster

Join us on our beautiful, parkland campus and experience a summer school at a highly ranked global university. You will spend time connecting with students from around the world through a varied programme of lectures, seminars and field trips.

There will be free time to explore the UK and see major cities, and we have an extensive social programme to ensure you have the opportunity to make some life-long friendships along the way!

Lancaster University is among the best in the UK and globally recognised. League tables can't tell you everything about a university, but they're a good place to start. We're in the top 15 in all three major national league tables, and rank among the top 150 in the world.

We're known for our excellent research and score highly for student satisfaction in the UK.

Film Studies

15 LU / 4 US / 7.5 ECTS credits

Develop an understanding of the formal and technical composition of films and the wider conventions of cinema. You will learn to analyse films, develop short scripts, work with cameras and edit.

You will have a combination of lectures, screening and workshops to help you develop the theoretical knowledge that you will need to put into practice working on the project in week 3. The lectures provide you with an understanding of the formal and technical composition of films in order to allow you to undertake detailed analysis, from the level of close scrutiny of individual images, and their interrelation with the soundtrack, through to the narrative assembly of shots and scenes. Through the analysis of a range of examples, you will become familiar with the key formal and semantic conventions of cinema.

The practical workshops develop your skills to work with cameras and digital film equipment as well as developing post-production and editing skills. Every student is given the chance to write a short script following guidelines. Working in a group, students will select a script to pitch and produce. Students in a group all share the same mark for the completed film. In addition, you will write an essay to critically reflect on and analyse the production process, the formal and aesthetic decisions made and reflect on the completed film.

Week 1:

- Lecture: Cinematography and the shot, and mise-en-scène, plus a film screening
- Seminar: Discussing the topic and the film
- Scriptwriting workshop
- Practical camera and sound workshop
- Post-production workshops

Week 2:

- Lecture: Editing and film sound, plus a film screening
- Seminar: Discussing the topic and the film
- Lecture: Pre-production to production
- Practical camera and sound workshop
- Post-production workshops
- Pitching session and informative feedback on each project

Week 3:

- One-to-one group meeting to finalise the plan for the film project
- Production and post-production of project
- Presentation of the completed work

Assessment

This summer school will be assessed through three methods:

- 40% Group film project
- 20% Group presentation
- 40% Individual essay

International Cultural Experience

10 LU / 3 US / 5 ECTS credits

Develop an understanding of current issues and potential difficulties facing different communities in Britain. As well as lectures and seminars, you'll have the chance to experience Lancaster life through activities related to business, culture, social issues and political matters. Build international friendships on team-building social activities: deliver a talent show, visit London and compete in the College Cup Day!

Week 1:

Learn about British culture and society, and how these factors contribute to a diverse range of experiences in the workplace. You'll visit a local business in the region and learn about the associated social and economic impact of small to medium enterprises. You will take part in community experiences and also engage in problem-solving team challenges, where you will consider the importance of language and communication, especially in intercultural contexts.

Week 2:

This week you will learn how recent political changes have affected Britain. You will meet a local politician and debate key issues surrounding social change and the challenges facing the North West of England. You'll engage with local community organisations and take part in volunteering in support of social and environmental initiatives in the local area.

Week 3:

In the final week, a trip to London will inspire you to think about the diversity of British culture and differences between regions in England and urban/rural environments. You'll also have the opportunity to reflect on your experiences and present your work to your tutors and peers.

Assessment

This summer school will be assessed through three methods:

- 30%: Presentation
- 40%: Reflective report
- 30%: Written assessment

International Commercial Law

15 LU / 4 US / 7.5 ECTS credits

Explore current issues in international commercial law and develop your understanding and knowledge of the underpinning methods, processes and concepts on this summer school. Primarily aimed at undergraduate law students you'll experience legal studies with both a basis in English law and legal methods, and a focus on international perspectives and issues.

In addition to the seminars, lectures and group work on campus, you'll also spend two nights in London, exploring and experiencing law in one of the global hubs of international commercial law.

Week 1:

Formation of Business

This topic introduces international commercial law by highlighting the concept of risk in business/commercial activities, providing a brief history of commercial law, discussing various business vehicles as well as the concepts and implications of separate legal personality and limited liability.

Week 2:

Management of Business

Exploring key issues in the trading phase of a commercial enterprise, you'll consider the importance of finance/capital to commercial activities and how that finance is procured, discussing key concepts like security, guarantees, retention of title and receivables financing. Finally, you'll consider options for resolving international commercial disputes, with the focus on globally-used measures of arbitration.

Week 3:

Insolvency and Commercial Transactions

You'll explore the notion of insolvency as a pervasive issue in international commercial law. It will highlight the impact of insolvency on commercial activity as well as the twin ideals of insolvency regimes to facilitate the restructuring/rescue of an insolvent entity or to procure a sensible distribution of available assets to creditors. Finally, the future of insolvency and other commercial law regimes in light of Brexit will be considered.

Assessment

This summer school will be assessed through two methods:
75%: Essay
25%: Presentations which will be delivered across the three weeks on specific themes

Exploring the Law

15 LU / 4 US / 7.5 ECTS credits

This summer school will provide you with an opportunity to explore current legal issues and develop your awareness and understanding of the methods, processes and concepts that underpin university-level legal studies. This programme is aimed at providing undergraduates with a first experience of studying law, and may be particularly useful for those interested in studying law at postgraduate level.

You'll experience lectures, seminars and group work on campus, field trips to help you connect the issues and concepts to the practice and operation of law, plus travel to London to make visits to significant law organisations.

Week 1:

You will explore issues and concepts that are fundamental to our understanding of law and legal processes. Lectures will introduce the issues and concepts, explain their significance and the context in which they operate and develop. You will then have an opportunity to discuss and explore the issues further in seminars as well as develop your analytical and legal reasoning skills in masterclasses. You will also begin to work in a team, engaging in group exercises during the workshops.

Week 2 & 3:

You will explore contemporary issues and themes concerning the role and impact of law in selected key areas – criminal law, human rights law and civil law.

Skills masterclasses will give you a grounding in legal research and writing skills. In the workshops, you will work more independently in teams on exercises arising out of the lectures and seminars.

A trip to London, including visits to leading legal institutions and international legal experts, will help to reinforce the excitement, challenges and importance of law in the modern world. You will also start to prepare for your essay assignments and carry out the last of the group exercises, as we pull together the insights, implications and issues that have emerged during the summer school.

Assessment

This summer school will be assessed through two methods:
60%: Essay exploring one designated theme in depth
40%: Presentations which will be delivered across the three weeks on specific themes

Evening socials

- Make friends over a game of basketball, football or cricket
- Relax with mindfulness and yoga
- Walk and talk through our peaceful woodland
- Bake delicious treats
- Play strategy board games

2 nights in London

All of the summer schools include a 2-night trip to London. Choose how to explore the capital city with themed tours from student ambassadors as well as free time for yourself.

- The Law summer schools will have scheduled tours of important locations in the London legal system.
- The film summer school will include a tour of the British Film Institute.

Socialise and explore

As well as academic content, you will have opportunities to make friends, try new skills and travel the UK with optional social activities in the evenings and weekends. See below for examples:

Weekend trips

Explore the UK's natural landscapes, busy metropolises and historic towns.

Visit places such as:

- Chester
- Liverpool
- London
- Manchester
- The Lake District
- York

Please note that weekend trips can vary and are at an additional cost.
